TURKS ARE ROUTED IN BATTLE

Steel Trust Branded Vicious in McRae Report; 9-Year's Profit Is Billion

Great Corporation Fooled Roosevelt as to Control, Declares U. S. Official

ROME, Feb. 28.—A severe battle resulting in the utter defeat by the Italian troops of the Turkish forces and their Arab allies, with great loss, is reported in official despatches received here today from Homs (which is also known as Lebda), about 70 miles east of Tripoli on the Mediterranean coast.

The engagement occurred at Mount Mergheib, which lies some distance beyond the town. The Turks and Arabs had taken up a strong position on the slopes, where they were attacked by the Italians with infantry and artillery. After a fight which lasted all day, the Italians put the enemy to flight by storming the heights.

The loss of the Turks and Arabs is described in the report as very heavy. The Italians lost 11 killed and 82 wounded.

PROTECT ITALIANS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 28.—The German Embassy has taken up the cudgels on behalf of the Italians in Palestine. The ambassador today made a vigorous protest to the Porte against their expulsion from Turkish territory under the terms of the recent decree. Many of the Italians affected are workmen on the Bagdad railroad, which is a German undertaking.

Steel corporation officials objected to producing their books before the committee on this charge but consented to place them freely at the disposal of an expert to be named by the committee. McRae made a thorough study of the books and minutes, and in his report to the committee he pointed out these salient features:

PARIS, Feb. 28.—As a result of the repeated attacks by Christians on Mohammedans in the Island of Crete and the activity of the revolutionary committee the protesting powers have decided to increase their naval forces stationed there.

France and Great Britain each will send two additional warships, while Russia also is to dispatch some war vessels. Italy, which has recognized the neutrality of Crete, agrees to the action of the other powers, but will not send any war vessels.

In diplomatic circles it is feared the recent attacks on Mohammedans will be followed by reprisals by Turkey which will take the form of a declaration of war on Greece, to which country the Cretans wish to be annexed. The powers are using every endeavor to prevent such an eventuality.

GARY DINERS.—The section of the report dealing with the "Gary dinners," which was appended as well as corporation steel monogram to discuss conditions in the trade, contains an analysis of the legal effect of the "golden rule" policy prepared by Anthony J. Ernest, New York lawyer, in which it is declared that the "conventions agreed to and enforced would be objectionable as regards their effect upon competition."

"The Gary dinner arrangement," says the report, "wherever the so-called 'golden rule' is observed, it is to be expected that the so-called 'golden rule' will be observed as well as corporation steel monogram to discuss conditions in the trade, contains an analysis of the legal effect of the 'golden rule' policy prepared by Anthony J. Ernest, New York lawyer, in which it is declared that the 'conventions agreed to and enforced would be objectionable as regards their effect upon competition.'

Ill in One Room, Wife Dying in Another

Author Walter B. Stevens Too Sick to Be Told of Spouse's Condition.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—Walter B. Stevens, journalist, who traveled with the Chinese delegation to the Paris Exposition, has been seriously ill at a local hotel in a room adjoining that of his wife, unaware that she is dying.

Stevens has been suffering from pneumonia for two weeks, and Mrs. Stevens, an invalid for several years, may die at any hour.

Attending physicians say the seriousness of Stevens' condition will prevent his knowing his wife's condition until after her death.

Croker's Daughter Hasn't Divorce Yet

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The jury in the divorce suit brought by Ethel Croker, widow of the late John J. Croker, erstwhile riding master, returned a sealed verdict in the Supreme Court today, holding that they could not agree. The summate station here has been ordered to hold

Italians Defeat Enemies and Allied Arabs Seventy Miles East of Tripoli

Powers to Increase Force at Crete to Protect Christians From Reprisals

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The House steel trust investigating committee today made public the results of the inquiry into the books and minutes of the United States Steel Corporation conducted by Farquhar J. McRae, an expert accountant.

The McRae report reaches the conclusion that the steel corporation operates in restraint of trade and prevents competition through a manipulation of prices, through the influence of the so-called "Gary dinners," by control of raw materials and through a system of interlocking directors in various companies. It also tends to contradict some of the testimony given by steel trust officials.

$70,000,000 CASH PROFIT.

Some of the figures dealt with in the report are startling. It is shown that J. P. Morgan & Co. received approximately $70,000,000 in cash profits for organizing the big steel combine, and that the net profits of the concern for the first nine years of its existence were more than a billion dollars.

Steel corporation officials objected to producing their books before the committee on this charge but consented to place them freely at the disposal of an expert to be named by the committee. McRae made a thorough study of the books and minutes, and in his report to the committee he pointed out these salient features:

REGISTRY IS BRANDED ILLEGAL

San Leandro Women Declare Many Have Been Registered Unlawfully

W. C. T. U. Appoints Committee to Investigate; Names Kept Secret

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 28.—Stirred up by several cases of alleged illegal registration, the local branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union has started an investigation and campaign to assure the proper registration of the women of this city. A committee of investigation was appointed by the president, Mrs. S. M. Woodman, at a special meeting yesterday.

The names of the committee women are withheld, it being believed that they can do better work if they are not known. William Zambrasky, chief deputy registration clerk, declares positively that there is not a single case of illegal registration in this district.

Mrs. Woodman asserts that the authorities are keeping the matter quiet. She declares that she has the names of men and women who have registered illegally.

FIGHT ON SALOONS.

A fight is also being made by the W. C. T. U. to offset the activities of the saloon interests, which are making a canvas of the voters of this city to secure the election of a W. C. T. U. candidate at the coming congressional election in April. The registration committee was appointed last night by the local union, and every eligible woman voter is being visited and urged to register.

Mrs. Woodman said today: "We are determined to elect trustees who will favor reform measures and a clean city, in which children may be brought up to useful citizenship. What candidates the union will support I am not yet ready to say."

Mrs. Arnold was the first white woman to assume Mount Morrison, on the island of Formosa.

SOUGHT IN CITY.—SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The hold-up of the Costa Bank had hardly been reported when a communication was sent to Captain of Detectives Wall in this city, asking that plain clothes men be detailed to guard all approaches and try to arrest the culprits. The police automobile was sent out and officers of the Ingleside and Bay View stations in the outlying portions of the city were notified and messages dispatched to the depots to keep a sharp lookout for the fugitives.

'War Department Has No Policy'--Fitzgerald

"Fluctuating, shifting and uncertain" are terms used by Representative.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The hold-up of the War Department was characterized by Representative Fitzgerald in the House today when he opposed a bill establishing a brigade post at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., now a regimental post. Fitzgerald said the department had no definite policy and that it drifted with the change in officials. Representative Mendell of Wyoming criticized the new policy of abandoning posts and building up newer and bigger ones.

Receive No Word From Snead Jury

FORT WORTH, Texas, Feb. 28.—Two pretty girls, who were identified as Miss Katherine Reid and Mrs. Jessie Hoover, must pay fines of $10 each for stealing a bath in a Fort Worth barber shop. The girls gained temporary respite by throwing water in the faces of the officers.

Several club women had in union emphatically condemned such "exhibitions" and the distinctions between the "Bunny-Hug" and the "Honey-Bug" were diagramed for Chairman Boyd. After a lengthy discussion, the matter was placed before the Police Commission, requesting it to adopt a method of eliminating the alleged evil.

MOTHER WAS WORRIED

Because Her Young Daughter Coughed So Much; What She Did.

Just think how anxious Mrs. William Archer of Long Branch, N. J., must have been about her 14-year-old daughter. She says "She was very thin, had a bad cough was nervous and did not sleep well." Vinol had helped her wonderfully. She can sleep all night now without coughing and she is greatly improved and she has gained weight. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."

Nothing can possibly be more important than the health of children and that is why we earnestly advise the use of Vinol in all cases where a child is weak, pale, run down, has a cough or poor appetite. We have seen to make so many children strong and well that we believe it is.

Children take Vinol eagerly because it tastes good and it puts new strength into their little bodies. We guarantee Vinol to give perfect satisfaction and give back your money if it does not work.

POLICE DRAGNET SET FOR THUGS

Italians Wanted for Complicity in New York Taxicab Holdup.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—While the police have the names of ten alleged highwaymen, five of whom are under arrest, the evidence so far uncovered in the taxicab holdup in the Wall street district, when two men were black-jacked and $25,000 in money stolen, shows that several others knew of the planning and execution of the plot and perhaps shared in the loot.

The police are especially desirous of arresting three Italians, two of whom are Stefano Mattos and Fausto.

The Italians are known to their felons as the "three brigands." Two of the prisoners who have confessed say that the "three brigands" supervised the robbery, but took no part in it until the division came, when Mattos seized $10,000.

So far but little over $3000 has been recovered by the police.

BAILEY DENOUNCES T. R.'S AMBITIONS

President Taft Hears Roosevelt Scored at Washington Club.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Taft last night heard Senator Bailey of Texas denounce Theodore Roosevelt's "third-term ambitions" and save 600 members of the University Club rise to their feet from the banquet tables and stand several minutes applauding the speaker.

Senator Bailey declared that "the present President is not a good enough Republican to succeed himself, he must be good enough Democrat to do so."

He jokingly invited the President, in case of failure at Chicago, to enter the Democratic party.

The President confined his speech to the value of university training. He laughingly asked Senator Bailey to tell him which branch of the Democratic party he would be received in, but made no other political reference except to chide his hearers for their applause of political remarks.

Senator Bailey began his speech with a defense of the constitution.

"Without intending to be offensive," he said, "I think that George Washington and Alexander Hamilton and James Madison were better qualified to establish a government than Bob La Follette or Bob Owen."

"He did not say anything about Theodore," broke in a voice, and laughter swept the room.

Senator Bailey said that university men had a distinct duty to perform in educating the country against adverse political tendencies. He suggested that it would be well to teach the Democratic party "the difference between a Democrat and a dogmatist."

"But you can be educated beyond their ability," continued the senator, "and that's what makes a mugwump. A man is often educated beyond his capacity, as when he says he does not mean to accept another nomination and then tries to make the people believe he did not mean what he said."

Deafening shouts greeted these remarks and there was more cheering for President Taft as he rose to speak immediately afterward.

EXPRESS CHANGE TO BENEFIT LINES

The Proposed New Method of Settling Rates Discussed at Capital.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—In statements submitted today at the investigation of the rates and methods of express companies before the Interstate Commerce Commission it was indicated by Frank Lyon, attorney for the commission that the change from a tonnage to a percentage basis of settlement between the express companies and the railroads would benefit the latter to the extent of approximately $50,000,000 a year.

A. M. Jones, train manager of the U. S. Express Co. and his committee, Lane, a tentative form for an express bill of lading, suggested by Lane, was objected to by Jones because it would require every express wagon driver to quote rates.

"That is just the point," said Commissioner Lane. "We want express rates so simplified that anybody can understand them."

Jones declined to commit himself to the proposed bill before he had time carefully to consider it.

STATE TO WATCH OVER INVENTIONS

LAWRENCE, Kas., Feb. 28.—When a concern which has an invention that will revolutionize transportation in a few months tries to sell stock in Kansas hereafter, the engineering department of the state university will take a look at the contrivance.

J. N. Doherty, state bank examiner, asked the chancellor to strengthen the co-operation in enforcing the "blue sky law." "Many applications to sell stock are based on inventions," the bank examiner said. "Horo is a man who would utilize an undeveloped power of nature and get a billion horse power a minute. All he needs is a few hundred thousand dollars that he hopes to get from the prosperous farmers of Kansas."

The banking department will pass upon the business end of these companies and the merits of the mechanical inventions will be tested at the university.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO
FEAR FOR THEIR LIVES

Madero's Secretary Declares Intervention Will Mean Massacre

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Mexican consul at El Paso requested today that the American collector of customs there forbid the exportation of American goods into Juarez, and urged that the rebel port be recognized by the United States as closed. The treasury department has taken up the question with the departments of state and justice.

The matter of stopping all supplies is regarded by the state department as a delicate one. A considerable district is dependent upon Juarez for its supplies and the cutting off of exports from El Paso, it is feared, would cause much suffering. It is understood the Mexican ambassador is preparing to lay before the state department the demand of his government that the shipment of supplies into Juarez be stopped.

TREVINO LEADS TROOPS.

Consul General Hanna reported from Monterrey that the statement that General Gerardo Trevino had cast his lot with the rebels was "without foundation."

He is the real leader of the revolution.

The President confided his speech to the value of university training. He laughingly asked Senator Bailey to tell him which branch of the Democratic party he would be received in, but made no other political reference except to chide his hearers for their applause of political remarks.

Senator Bailey began his speech with a defense of the constitution.

NOT A 'CURE-ALL'

Separate Remedies, Each Devised for the Treatment of a Particular Ailment.

There is no "cure-all" among the remedies. There are different and separate medicines, each one devised for a certain human ailment or a class of ailments closely allied. For instance, all Dyspepsia Tablets are recommended for the positive relief of stomach irritation, indigestion, flatulence and dyspepsia. They are rich Bismuth-Subnitrate, Pepsin and Carnitamins. They are prepared by special processes which perfect and enhance the great remedial value of these well-known medicinal agents. This remedy sells for 25 cents, 50 cents and $1 per package. Every one suffering from stomach disorder should try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, inasmuch as they cost nothing if they do, not satisfy.

Remember, the Owl Drug Co., stores in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle, Spokane are the only stores where these remedies may be obtained, and every one in need of medicine is urged to investigate and take advantage of the frank and generous manner in which they are sold.

The program has been divided into nine parts, as follows: Songs of Home, Songs of the Sea, Songs of the South, Songs of Slavery, Songs of Humor, Songs of Love, Songs of Scotland, Songs of Ireland, and Songs of War and Patriotism. The soloists in the choir are: Mrs. Anna Berglund, Winona; Miss Carol Nicholson, Mrs. D. Mustard and H. G. Williams. An interesting feature of the concert will be the reappearance upon the public platform of Mrs. Alfred C. Read, who was well known as a dramatic reader before her marriage, under her maiden name, Miss Ada Bibby. Mrs. Read's number to the program is entitled "The Spinning-wheel."

VETERANS' QUARTET.

Another feature at the close of the concert will be singing of the "Soldier's Farewell" and "Tenting On the Old Camp Ground" by a men's quartet containing two veterans of the Civil war. The quartet includes Thomas Atherton, first tenor, George Burbeck, second tenor; George H. Collins, first bass; Capt. W. R. Thomas, second bass.

The concert is to be given for the benefit of the new Cadet Fund of the First Congregational Church, and will be followed by dancing, according to leap year action. An orchestra of five pieces will play during the evening. Reserved seat tickets have been placed on sale at Sherman & Clay's.

CITY REJECTS BID; MUST RETURN CHECK

In its anxiety to deal harshly with the firm of Cotton brothers, contractors of this city, the city council of Oroville made a mistake that revokes the punishment it sought to administer, according to a decision made by Superior Judge Waste yesterday. Evidence submitted showed that the council first withdrew its acceptance of a bid on sewer work and then rejected the bid. Not satisfied, it then voted to forfeit the certified check of $6000 which had accompanied same.

The minutes of the council meeting were read in court.

Judge Waste decided that the city should return the check for the reason that in refusing to accept the bid it had refused to accept the check and further that in rejecting the bid it had rejected the check.

REGISTRY CLERKS COLLEGE GUESTS

Mills Girls Make Day Pleasant for Johnstone and Keefe.

MILLS COLLEGE, Feb. 28.—Chief Deputy County Clerk Andrew E. Johnstone and Deputy County Clerk George Keefe were the special guests at a luncheon tendered them yesterday afternoon after they had registered Miss Susan L. Mills and 45 students at her institution.

After the serious business of the law had been disposed of, the luncheon hour was 200 girls who received them and served them with refreshments.

"It's better than being a matine idol," explained Johnstone last evening. "I've got Henry Miller beat blocks for popularity."

"I would rather be a registration clerk than President," declared Keefe.

Mrs. Mills explained when registering that she was realizing the predictions of her parents and her own anticipation for the past 60 years. She gave me age as 25.

"My father predicted that this time would come," she told Johnstone. "He was a Republican and I am going to register as a Republican."

Dr. Kate Holmes, in charge of the educational department at the institution, marshaled the young women in the Carnegie Library where the registration was attended to. Marion G. Bolt and Ida May Bradley, special teachers, registered with the pupils.

Before the work of registration began Mrs. C. E. Holmes, Mrs. Isabelle Johnson, Mrs. A. L. Berry and Anita Whitney addressed the gathering.

BURGLAR SUSPECTS CAUGHT BY POLICE

Two Men With Revolver and Tools Believed to Be Would-Be Bank Robbers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Captured by detectives just as it is believed they were planning to break into a Filmore street store, Charles Nash and James Bradley, were taken to the city prison at 5 o'clock this morning and booked in.

Detectives Casheil and Kimball were standing at Ellis and Filmore street, when they noticed two men acting suspiciously. As the officers approached, the pair took to their heels and ran to Eddy street, with the police in pursuit. When they reached the corner they separated and Casheil pursued Bradley into the ruins of the Chutes, where he placed the handcuffs on his wrists. The man protested that he had been merely frightened and that he was on his way home when he saw the police. He said he lived in the neighborhood, but when Casheil walked with him to the house he said he had forgotten the exact location and couldn't remember exactly where he resided. He had a revolver on his person. In the meanwhile Kimball had captured Nash and in his pocket were found a quantity of burglar's tools.

AVIATOR CRAWFORD NEAR DEATH IN BAD FALL

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 28.—Aviator Harvey Crawford, while trying out his machine at Association park, plunged with his craft 200 feet to the ground within sight of a crowd of spectators. He escaped with several bad bruises and lacerations and his scalp was badly torn. His machine was utterly wrecked.

Crawford had ascended to about 1200 feet when the spectators saw his machine suddenly become unmanageable, the motor going dead. The machine plunged 800 feet before Crawford could right it. He then glided downward, but when within 200 feet of the ground the craft struck an air hole and toppled over.

Crawford was pinned beneath the heavy motor and was extricated in an unconscious condition. His escape from death was due to the fact that he fell in a recently plowed field. Just previous to his tragic ascent Crawford had returned from a long cruise about the valley with two passengers.

NATIONAL QUARANTINE ACT IS FOUGHT FOR

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Dr. A. J. Cook, State Horticultural Commissioner, yesterday sent a special appeal to all the Governors and Horticultural Commissioners of all the western states asking them to use their influence upon their Senators and Congressmen in Washington for the passage of the national quarantine act, giving the United States power to establish quarantine against foreign pests.

This plea is being sent out following advice received from Washington from Dr. L. G. Howard of the division of entomology of the department of agriculture, and James Mills of Riverside, who is in Washington in the interest of the act.

WILL HOLD CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Edward L. Frick, one of the youngest employees of the architectural department of the Panama-Pacific Exposition company, has been awarded the $1000 prize offered by the Architectural League of the Pacific Coast for a design for an open air festival hall, culminating the main axis of an exposition similar to the 1915 project. Frick, who is but 21 years old, was chosen from among many competitors and expects to spend the money in a trip to Paris for further study. The young man's brother, Frank Frick, has recently attracted attention as a singer of wonderful voice and is soon to be presented to the operatic stage.

I read here that there will be another race, I would say that Sir Thomas Lipton made the announcement," he said at the Congress hotel. "I want to say also that I do not think that there is anything unsportsmanlike in the attitude of the American yachtsmen. They have a perfect right to make the conditions for the race. While I feel that it is a handicap to be compelled to bring a boat across the Atlantic, it is merely a condition that cannot be avoided."

MEYER URGES U.S. TO USE ALASKAN COAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Secretary Meyer was before the house committee on naval affairs yesterday and urged that the coal fields of Alaska be used by the government. He advocated the building of a government railroad, or some arrangement with a private railroad now at Resurrection bay. The government now pays $1,000,000 a year to get coal around Cape Horn for the Pacific and the secretary said. Secretary Meyer recommended the building of 12 colliers for use on the Panama canal.

WHY did it become necessary for the Security Bank to erect a splendid building so that it could obtain adequate and comfortable quarters to transact its growing business?

LIPTON TO CHALLENGE AMERICA FOR CUP

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Sir Thomas Lipton is preparing to challenge once more for the America cup and prospects are rosy for another great international yacht race. This is the message brought to Chicago by Sir William Bush of London, a member of Parliament and prominent in sporting and public affairs in England. Sir William speaks with authority concerning Lipton, as he is a personal friend and was one of Sir Thomas' guests at New York when the last cup race was sailed.

"I read here that there will be another race, I would say that Sir Thomas Lipton made the announcement," he said at the Congress hotel. "I want to say also that I do not think that there is anything unsportsmanlike in the attitude of the American yachtsmen. They have a perfect right to make the conditions for the race. WILL HOLD CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION called independents are influenced to reduce their production conformably to their estimate of the reduction in the demand existing, and to maintain prices, is objectionable as far as it operates to exclude free competition. The arrangement is designed and intended to operate, and has operated, admittedly, as to standard steel rails, although it is claimed that the so-called independent participants can cut prices without fear of penalty, except the dishonor of declaring in favor of a named price and then selling at some other price.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Edward L. Frick, one of the youngest employees of the architectural department of the Panama-Pacific Exposition company, has been awarded the $1000 prize offered by the Architectural League of the Pacific Coast for a design for an open air festival hall, culminating the main axis of an exposition similar to the 1915 project. Frick, who is but 21 years old, was chosen from among many competitors and expects to spend the money in a trip to Paris for further study. The young man's brother, Frank Frick, has recently attracted attention as a singer of wonderful voice and is soon to be presented to the operatic stage.

WORD IS SUFFICIENT.

"It can be no justification of the co-operation of the participants in the Gary dinners that no penalty attaches to a violation of the declarations mutually exchanged, because performance of the anti-trust act would prevent the enforcement of any penalty for producing prices or exceeding one share of the diminished previous pool agreements may have been broken and penalties inflicted by the members themselves, although this was soon discontinued. It will be assumed, even if a fund had not been deposited, that the men in the old pool would have paid their fines. If this were assumed, it can also be assumed that the word of the participants in the Gary dinners is ample security for the professions of co-operation in the policy almost unanimously adopted by the dinners."

"On the other hand, any contract may be broken; any conspiracy may be upset by recalcitrants. It is surely no excuse for the illegality of any arrangement in restraint of trade that it can be departed from by the participants."

Stress is laid in the financial section of the report upon the demonstration by figures that the steel corporation was restrain competition by making the greater portion of its profits in raw materials and in plants producing semi-finished materials while the finished product plants make very low profits. This operates, it is declared, to keep the price of raw materials, ore, coke and pig iron, on a high plane, to the advantage of the corporation and disadvantage of the independent.

THIRTEEN DOLLARS A TON.

"During the nine years from January 1, 1902, to December 31, 1910," the report says, "the productions of the corporation in rolled and other finished steel amounted to 73,267,363 tons and the adjusted net earnings for the same period amounted to $1,029,685,389, or an equivalent of approximately $13 per ton. In order that any idea may be had of the net earnings in dollars per ton of the several operating groups of the corporation I have calculated these figures and find the approximate net earnings of $13 per ton of finished product to have been earned as follows:

"By manufacturing companies $8.01 per ton. By coal and coke companies 70 cents per ton. By iron and steel companies $2.12 per ton. By transportation companies $1.81 per ton. By miscellaneous companies 36 cents per ton. Total $13."

This report says, is equivalent to an earning of 40 per cent on cost.

In accounting for the discrepancy between the earnings claimed by the steel corporation, $80,000,000, and his estimate of $1,109,146,083, McRae restored to net earnings what had been eliminated by the steel corporation in its accounting, including such things as "interest on bonds of subsidiary companies, the locked up interest company profits in inventories, special depreciation admittedly charged to construction, employee bonus funds and special compensations, account preferred stock subscriptions which have been treated as dividends from earnings and not in the nature of additional wages to employees, and lastly interest on bonds, mortgaged and purchase money obligations of subsidiary companies."

As showing the result of the policy of the steel corporation to make the most of profits in the raw and semi-finished material, McRae submitted a condensed statement of the dividends paid by the subsidiary companies to the steel corporation and the interest paid by the Carnegie company on its collateral trust bonds, from April 1, 1901, to April 1, 1910, showing a total of $753,124,386.63.

INTEREST IN DIVIDENDS.

"The income from the Carnegie company in dividends and bond interest," he says, "amounted to $305,349,537.49, or about 40 per cent of the total. The American Bridge Company paid the holding company dividends on its preferred stock during this period to the amount of $19,715,577.50, or 2.6-10 per cent of the total."

The table of dividends for the nine-year period follows:

BRITISH ARMY EXPENSES INCREASE

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The estimates of expenditures for the British army for the fiscal year of 1912-13, including both effective and non-effective services, aggregate $120,000,000, or an increase of $50,000 over those of the year 1911-12.

The entire increase in the estimates is due to the proposed expenditure by the government in development of aviation in the British army as it is planned to spend $60,000 on the acquisition of aeroplanes.

The British army has been the backbone of Holland in time of trouble. Heavy taxation and high rents were the causes of their emigration from Friesland.

Shakespeare and His Contemporaries.

Our weekly contemporary, Town Talk, of San Francisco, enters the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy with the air of a moderator, remarking that the editor of the Stockton Mail has talked all his interior contemporaries to a standstill on the subject. Not infrequently men retire from a profitless discussion because they do not care to indulge in mere vociferation and iteration which cannot lead to any definite conclusion. Some editors are disposed to think their space can better be employed than in disputing a question which can only be met by assertion or by refuting in detail an endless succession of misstatements and laboriously fabricated errors and falsehoods.

"I have no hesitation in deciding that Brother Francis remains unrefuted," says the editor of Town Talk. It would be idle to question the competency and learning of the judge since he has no jurisdiction and nobody is called to plead at the bar of his court. Dogberry may enter what judgment he chooses since it is of no force and effect, and is merely an expression of individual opinion which is valuable only to those with whose views it coincides. With due respect to His Honor, therefore we will dismiss the judgment of the court and proceed to real business.

Town Talk says Shakespeare's father was a farmer. The Mail says he was illiterate. He was not a farmer and he was not illiterate. John Shakespeare was a glover and a wool merchant. For nineteen years he was a magistrate, High Bailiff, of his borough. He was therefore a man of consequence. The Mail says he was illiterate because there are records to prove that he sometimes signed his name with a cross. This might be deemed conclusive if the investigation were pushed no further, but, unfortunately for the Mail's contention, there are other signatures of the elder Shakespeare minus the cross. A comparison of the signatures without the cross shows that they were written by the hand that penned the signatures with the cross. In other words, the elder Shakespeare sometimes added a cross when signing his name and sometimes neglected to do so.

It was a common practice for persons in his time to sign their names with a cross when they desired to give special solemnity to their attestation. The cross was added by the signer as an evidence of good faith. The parish registers in England bear abundant testimony to this fact. The charge of illiteracy brought against Shakespeare's mother and daughter rests upon the same fallible testimony—palpably false as in the case of John Shakespeare.

However, the authenticity of Shakespeare's authorship rests upon testimony of an entirely different and more convincing kind—testimony that is clear and incontrovertible to every logical and candid mind. For some thirty years Shakespeare lived and moved in a circle of great literary lights—poets, playwrights, writers—who made literature a study and a profession and who gave personal attention to the drama and the details of stagecraft. He was on terms of intimacy with nearly all of them, in the capacity of poet, playwright, theatrical manager and actor. Not one of these men ever intimated that Shakespeare was deficient in scholarship and ability, or that he was producing plays under his own name that were written by somebody else.

Among Shakespeare's literary contemporaries were Edmund Spenser, Sir John Davies, Michael Drayton, John Donne; Sir John Suckling, Thomas Nash, Robert Greene, Christopher Marlowe, Philip Massinger, Ben Jonson, John Lily, Francis Beaumont and Thomas Fletcher—some older and some younger—with all of whom he was on terms of personal acquaintance. Some of these men have left glowing testimonials to his wit and genius; not one ever hinted that he was an uneducated imposter. Spenser, Sir John Davies and Ben Jonson were among his warmest panegyrist. Yet Drummond, Jonson's biographer, says Jonson knew all the Greek and Latin there was; and Jonson was a self-educated man, was a bricklayer's apprentice at fourteen and in early manhood a soldier in the Low Countries.

Robert Greene, who, despite his great talents and unquestioned scholarship, was a dissolute rake and a good deal of a blackguard, took a fling at Shakespeare in his pamphlet, "A Groatsworth of Wit"—a monody on his own failures, failings and misfortunes—but it was a mere passing shot of jealousy. He called Shakespeare a crow parading in our (meaning himself, Marlowe, Nash and Jonson) beautiful feathers and characterized him as a tiger wearing a player's hide. This was an obvious paraphrase of the line in Henry IV:

"O, tiger's heart in woman's hide."

At this time Shakespeare was not quite 28 years old and had been in London about five years. He must have made his mark soon to have aroused the jealous anger of a man of Greene's scholarship and talents—it is obvious that he had succeeded where Greene had failed.

When "Hamlet" appeared Nash lampooned the play and called Shakespeare a scivener. Not a word to suggest Shakespeare's inability to write the play. Ben Jonson said Shakespeare had no art and violated the classic drama of Greene and Rome, but that was in early life, and he subsequently eulogized the Bard of Avon as the master of his age.

Our Stockton friend quotes some Antipodean ass, a peddler of second-hand misinformation, who says Shakespeare's death passed unnoticed. Did he ever read Ben Jonson's memorial ode, unsurpassed for unstinted praise in the English tongue, "To the Memory of My Beloved Master, William Shakespeare," from which these lines are culled:

"Soul of the age!

The applause! delight! the wonder of our stage!
My Shakespeare rise! I will not lodge thee by Chaucer, or Spenser, or bid Beaumont lie
A little further off; to make thee room!
Thou art a monument without a tomb."

Edmund Spenser, the author of "The Faery Queen," wrote thus of Shakespeare in his "Teat of the Mew."

"—the man whom Nature self had made
To mock herself, and Truth to imitate
With kindly counter under mimick shade,
Our pleasant Willy."

A most convincing evidence of Shakespeare's excellence as an actor is given by Sir John Davies, who declared himself a lover of players and their quality. Writing about 1607, "To our English Ference, Mr. Wm. Shakespeare," he said:

"Some say, good Will, which I in sport do sing.
Hadst thou not played some kingly parts in sport,
Thou hadst beene a companion for a king.
And beene a king among the meaner sort.
Some others rase, but raille as they thinke fit,
Thou hast no rayling, but a raiging wit,
And honesty thou sow'st which they do reape,
So to increase their stock which they do keepe."

John Milton, greatest of English epic poets, was eight years old when Shakespeare died, and was reared among men who knew

IN THE MARKET TODAY

"CAN YOU ASK, MADAM, WHEN WE MAKE SUCH A SPLENDID SUBSTITUTE?"

—ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT.

Shakespeare and in the literary atmosphere created by Shakespeare and his contemporaries. From his earliest years Milton was a close reader and an ardent admirer of Shakespeare, and thus wrote of him:

"What needs my Shakespeare for his honored bones
The labor of an age in piled stones?
Or that his hallowed reliques should be hid
Under a star-pointing pyramid?
Dear son of memory, great heir of fame,
What need'st thou such weak witness of thy name?
Thou in our wonder and astonishment
Hast built thyself a living monument.
For whilst to the shame of slow-endavoring art
Thy easy numbers flow, and that each heart
Hath from the leaves of thy unvalued book
Those Delphic lines with deep impression took—
Then thou, our fancy of itself bereaving,
Dost make us marble with too much conceiving,
And so sepulchred in such pomp dost lie
That kings for such tomb would wish to die."

If Shakespeare was an ignorant country lout, a mere scene-shifter, a tavern callboy, how could he so impress the great men of his generation? How came he to associate with those men on terms of social equality, provoke their jealous resentment and excite their ardent admiration? But if it were a demonstrated fact that Shakespeare did not write the plays and poems attributed to him, there is no proof whatever that Francis Bacon did. It was the fashion of the day for the noblest in the land to write sonnets. Sir Philip Sidney, Sir Walter Raleigh, Sir John Suckling, Walsingham and even Francis Bacon all tried their hand at poetry. Bacon signed his name to poetical effusions. Why did he sign such wretched stuff with his own name and let "Venus and Adonis" and those incomparable sonnets be put forth under the name of a poor, ignorant player? Bacon wrote a play and did not conceal his authorship, and a comparison of it with any of Shakespeare's great dramas is sufficient evidence to any critical mind that the man who wrote "A Conference of Pleasure" was wholly incapable of writing "The Tempest" or "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Ben Jonson said Shakespeare "equaled all that insolent, Greece or haughty Rome sent forth," but this is assumed to be the language of derision although the context proves that it was sincere eulogy.

But it is useless to pursue the subject further. The so-called Baconians are oblivious to fact, to reason, to argument and every law of probability. They reject the obvious to seize upon the wildest absurdity; piece together unrelated things—trifles, scraps and random assertions—to form a patchwork for a theory that has not even the shadow of a foundation. In endeavoring to sustain an absurd and baseless theory they take incredible pains to avoid and conceal the truth and distort every reference to Shakespeare which interferes with their pet delusion.

The Roosevelt boom has a number of tails to it. In California it is Roosevelt and Johnson; in New England it is Roosevelt and Bass; in Missouri it is Roosevelt and Hadley; in Michigan, it is Roosevelt and Osborne, and in Kansas—Kansas which bleeds at every pore and rejoices in the economic doctrines of Peffer and Stockless Simpson—it is Roosevelt and Stubbs—glorious combination of gulf and red hair, of mephitude and moonshine. But every tail has a machine and a commissary, and each is claiming the exclusive right to be the appendage to the kite. All but one will get the La Follette trip.

Collier's Weekly, which is published in New York, is boasting Jeff Davis of Arkansas for re-election to the Senate. Small wonder—Collier's Weekly is the Jeff Davis of American journalism.

TAFT AND THE INSURGENTS

And the sober-minded, conservative, loyal Republicans of California are probably wondering what it all means. For the first time in the history of the party a determined effort is being made to prevent a president from receiving a renomination, and yet no man in the presidential chancery since Lincoln's time has made a more high class chief executive than Taft. Thus, some of his policies are not popular. But they are the policies of the party as enunciated in many a platform, and Taft has earnestly tried to serve the people by carrying out the accepted party doctrine.

Why then this war against him? Why the determined effort to defeat one whose record from a party standpoint is above reproach? The answer is not a difficult one. If the lions in Africa had triumphed over the hunter when the latter went Bakersfield Californian, Dem.

THE FORTY IMMORTALS

News of tremendous import has come from Philadelphia scarcely less significant than those two epoch-making and historic tidings announcing the birth of a new republic and the fact that the machine had been swatted by a long-whiskered mayoralty candidate. It's a pity the Liberty Bell is cracked for verily not since that sweltering July morning in 1776 has there been offered so favorable an opportunity for cheer and other noisy demonstrations of delight by the populace. America's Academy of Immortals has been incorporated for business, and the names of the board of directors have been proclaimed to an expectant and palpitating world.

There are 40 of 'em—count 'em, 40—and every one a headliner, a star of purest ray serene, a first-water diamond, and not a single flaw in the string to mar the nation's glorious diadem. Ring out, wild bells, let joy be unconfined! It is, indeed, a list, which while it makes us collectively proud, is calculated to make some of us, individually, exceedingly wroth and sore at not having been one of the inner circle which organized the thing, and elected themselves to these dizzy perches of self-constituted fame. One notes upon the roll of honor two of our most distinguished scholars—T. R. and W. W.—but fails to find thereon the name of any other presidential aspirant. The Outlook staff is represented by the two assistants, while Dr. Abbott has escaped the white tag of immortality, a state of affairs which, in our humble judgment, is likely to upset discipline in the sanctum. Southerners eligible for the Olympian badge, it seems are few and far between, and one gathers by a perusal of the roll that Boston is still the center of the known literary world. Harry Van Dyke and Jim Elley, twin muses of the Gods, share the laurels in the realm of posey, and John Burroughs gets in as the only American naturalist who never saw a chipmunk bind up a broken leg with a couple of splints made out of match stems.

On the whole, the list is satisfactory. It makes one feel snug and self-satisfied. It increases the national dignity, and boosts upon the enduring heights of time a job lot of magazine editors, etc., who otherwise might have gone down the ages unknown, unsung. But one cannot but regret that the stockholders could not have seen their way clear to the election of Dave Belasco and George Ade, and Kins Hubbard, and Walt Mason, and Laura Libby, and a few other real immortals. Why should the spirit of immortality be proud? Why 40—not another "4-0"?—Washington Post.

CONSUMER GETS GOODS AT COST

Dr. Madison Peters Solves the Problem of High Cost of Living.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Rev. Dr. Madison Peters, who has been experimenting with the sale of groceries and vegetables at cost, price to stemmet dwellers in the vicinity of his own church, is as strongly convinced of the success of this work that he now plans the organization of a formal corporation to carry on in a large way the job of getting food from the producer to the consumer with the least intermediate expense.

The capital stock of the corporation will be distributed, so as to prevent its getting away from the control of the people, or into the hands of private interests. The work of the corporation will be in the hands of an advisory board chosen from various charitable societies

21,000 ACRES OF FOREST ON SALE

Government Seeks Bids on Pine Trees in Shasta National Tract.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—One thousand dollars a day will be put into circulation in Northern California during the year through the sale of a large tract of government timber in the forest service is now advertising for bids. The sale includes about 31,000 acres of excellent sugar and yellow pine trees in Shasta National Forest. The estimate shows that nearly $1,000,000 board feet of timber is included upon this area, most of it lying upon the headwaters of the Trinity river in Trinity County.

Five years are allowed by the contract which the government offers for the removal of the timber, including one year's time in which to complete the necessary preliminary construction of roads for transporting the logs from the woods to the mill.

To handle this timber about 25 miles of new railroad must be constructed. This railroad will extend from the main line of the Southern Pacific across the divide in Trinity County. Bonded funding transportation for the timber to be logged the railroad will give an outlet to the mining and agricultural regions about Trinity Center. A large sawmill will be built there, turning out 40 million feet a year, will have to be constructed to manufacture the lumber.

STUMPAGE PROVISION.
In this case, as in that of several sales for large amounts of stumpage now under advertisement, California provisions are made for estimating stumpage rates throughout the life of the contract which will be fair both to the government and to the purchaser. The contract will contain a plan for the revision of the initial stumpage rates at five year intervals to conform to the current values of manufactured lumber.

At the end of each five year period the average selling price of lumber in the market to which the timber belongs will be used to determine the increase will be divided between the purchaser and the government on a basis which will insure the purchaser a fair profit and also allow for possible increases in the cost of operation.

This new policy has been definitely approved by the secretary of agriculture, and is said to be looked upon favorably both by the department and the industry. It is anticipated that this method of determining prices which will permit sales of large bodies of timber for long cutting periods, will greatly stimulate the sale of National forest timber in California.

SAN JOSE TO HAVE DISTANT WATERFRONT

SAN JOSE, Feb. 28.—Construction gangs were sent out from this city today to be placed for the beginning of work on the San Jose Terminal Railroad, by connecting this city with San Francisco bay, will give San Jose almost the standing in the commercial world of a seaport.

Franchises and rights of way have been had for some time and the public has been awaiting the announcement that actual construction had begun. The road is expected to mean the cheapening of transportation charges between here and San Francisco by water, giving a competing line.

Express and mail steamers will connect with the terminus of the Terminal line north of Alviso and will give a quick, direct service to the metropolis. J. A. McMillin, general manager of the road, has brought the undertaking to its present state through unusual determination, a similar attempt to build the road several years ago having failed owing to the powerful antagonistic influences.

MANY HURT IN CRASH OF TRAINS IN IOWA

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 28.—Nine persons were injured seriously and several others were hurt when Rock Island passenger train No. 15 ran into the rear of Wabash passenger No. 3 at the outskirts of the city late last night.

Both trains were running at high speed, and when the Rock Island train struck the Wabash train and coach was overturned and rolled several feet down a steep embankment.

The coach contained more than twenty-seven passengers. All received slight injuries. It is said all probably will recover.

ROBBERS NEAR CAPTURE.

RED BLUFF, Feb. 28.—It has been learned that United States Postal Inspector Martin and James T. Hogan, a Southern Pacific detective, were in the city following a well-defined clew to the identity of the bandit who held up three mail clerks and robbed the registered mail on the northbound Oregon express January 6 as the train sped between here and Redding.

Hogan got his start in Pennsylvania, where he worked as a day laborer in a foundry. He bought his first blast furnace from E. H. Harriman and after operating it successfully sold out and went to Trinidad, Colo., where he founded the Trinidad Rolling Mills, which he later sold to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. He went to Colorado to Los Angeles and in 1885 came to Seattle. His real estate holdings are valued at several million dollars. His wife died five years ago. Two small children survive.

EDUCATORS HAVE A BUSY SESSION

Interesting Discussions Take Place at N. E. A. Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—Delegates to the convention of the National Educational Association spent a busy day today—the third of the meeting.

The branch of Superintendence, the National Council of Education, the National and the Educational Press Association of America were in session.

Carroll G. Pease, president of schools at Milwaukee, Wis., and president of the N. E. A., read a paper on "The City Trade School," in which he discussed the importance of trade schools as instruments for improving the vocational need of the city child.

"Trade schools," he said, "are criticized because they are expensive, because it costs more to school a boy for a year than for a girl." He also said that the ordinary type of boy is not fit for the ordinary type of work.

He said that the boy's earning power can be raised from $600 to $1000 and his capitalized value from $15,000 to $25,000.

For building a new Episcopal church in Eureka $20,000 was provided; to the Boys' and Girls' Aid society of San Francisco, $3000; to the Clinton Woods' Home, $5000; to the Florence Crittenton Home of San Francisco, $5000; to the Protestant Orphan Asylum of San Francisco, $5000; to the trustees and vestry of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, $10,000; and to the Episcopal church of Elmwood, New Brunswick, $2500.

The estate consists of a half interest in the Dolbeer-Carson lumber company and the Dolbeer-Carson lumber company and lands throughout the State, stocks, bonds and shipping properties. The will also provides for the support of his three brothers, and made ample provision for his wife and sister, both of whom died before him.

RUNS TEN BLOCKS TO CATCH THUGS

Policeman-Athlete Makes Use of Training in Arresting Holdup Men.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Policeman Martin is a world's champion weight thrower, sprinted 10 blocks this morning to arrest the men who are charged with a series of attempted holdups in West Side saloons.

It was just after midnight when the three men, masked and armed with revolvers, entered the first saloon and told the bartender to throw up his hands. He did so, but when one of the footpads tried to vault the bar to get to the cash register, the bartender felled him with a blow in the face. The two other masked men fired several shots and then fled, leaving the bartender with them.

Within the next hour the three robbers, who had been to three other saloons but met with resistance at each place, Sheridan caught them and, with the aid of reinforcements, arrested all three. When they ran from the last place they had visited.

The men jumped a flying south-bound car, but Sheridan is in training for the Olympics, and he continued in pursuit. He was able to keep the car in sight and watched the men as they dropped off into the darkness.

When the men reached the corner, he caught them and, with the aid of reinforcements, arrested all three.

MILLIONAIRE HOFIUS SUCCUMBS IN SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 28.—W. D. Hofius, a millionaire manufacturer, died at his home here last night of heart disease, aged 60 years. He was president of the Seattle Drydock Company or the Hofius Steel and Equipment Company, and owned valuable property in Seattle and Portland.

Hofius got his start in Pennsylvania, where he worked as a day laborer in a foundry. He bought his first blast furnace from E. H. Harriman and after operating it successfully sold out and went to Trinidad, Colo., where he founded the Trinidad Rolling Mills, which he later sold to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. FAIR SEX WORE FIRST TROUSERS

Lecturer Tells Women American Man Simply Copied the Styles.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 28.—Suffragists could have found precedent to help prove their contention that woman is the equal, if not the superior, of man in the lecture of Mrs. James H. Austin of this city before the Kansas City Historical Society last night. The lecture was a part of the annual exhibition held by the society.

"I don't suppose we can get the men to admit it, but women in America wore the first trousers," Mrs. Austin said. "The style started about 1800. Men were still wearing 'small clothes.' The ball costume of a society woman of that period is described as consisting in part of pink satin trousers that extended from beneath a rather short dress skirt."

"The trousers, or pantaloons, were uncomfortable and expensive. The expense was met, however, by shorting them from the knee being tied with strings there."

"John Quincy Adams was the first, perhaps, to introduce trousers for men into this country," concluded the speaker, "when he returned with his father, John Adams, from England."

CHINAMAN WATCHES SURGEONS SLASH HIM

SAN JOSE, Feb. 28.—Wong Bing Lee, a Chinese patient who was shot down by his half-sleep roommate, Joe Git, by mistake on Friday night, saw City Physician Dr. C. G. Gerlach cut off his arm and remove a .35-caliber revolver bullet from his lung at the Columbia Hospital. The bullet was sprayed until frozen and while the patient remained fully conscious the surgeon uttered a profane exclamation, apparently expressive of both relief and disgust.

ABANDONS WIFE AND SIX CHILDREN

James Donnelly Arrested Here for Desertion of Family in Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Abandonment of a wife and six children, ranging from eight years to an infant of six months, is charged against James Donnelly, who was captured by Inspector St. Clair Hodgkins today and placed in the city prison on requisition from Governor John A. Dix of the State of New York. Donnelly will be taken east to face his deserted wife and children in the courts of Niagara Falls City, New York, on the felony charge.

According to information received in Oakland a few days ago, the wife deserted her husband under circumstances which last year, and it was believed that he had come to the bay region. That he had come to the bay region without reason, and had made no effort to contribute to their support, is the information handed him by the Oakland police, and an effort was made to locate the man. Inspector St. Clair Hodgkins traced him to the shops at Fullerton, in Contra Costa county, and placed the man under arrest.

The Oakland police acted on advice of Chief of Police Thomas H. Lyons of Niagara Falls, New York. Chief Lyons has been advised of the capture of the fugitive, and the Oakland police have been commissioned to come to Oakland to take the prisoner in charge.

CURFEW AT DARK AT STATE FARM

Hazing of U. C. School Student Results in Drastic Order.

DAVIS, Cal., Feb. 28.—The curfew rings at dark for the young men who are learning scientific farming at the State university farm school near Davis. They must remain on the grounds of the school until 10 p.m. to return to Davis after dark.

The cause of the order is the hazing of Hearn, one of the students. Hearn was roughly treated by some of his school mates. It is reported that he was unconscious for some time after the hazing. His hair is much shorter than it was and his hands severely bruised, wrists and fingers on other parts of his body.

COMMON GARDEN SAGE RESTORES GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

A Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling Hair, Itching Scalp
Faded and Gray Hair.

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea" which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wych Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market San Pablo Ave.

TIMOTHY CLEARED OF MURDER CHARGE

Moore's Chauffeur Acquitted by Jury at Redwood City.

REDWOOD CITY, Feb. 28.—Samuel L. Timothy, slayer of John J. Moore, the wealthy coal dealer and clubman of San Francisco, was acquitted of the charge of murder here late yesterday. The jury sustained the chauffeur's plea of self-defense after deliberating nearly two hours. Moore himself in a dying statement, shortly after the shooting in front of the Moore residence in San Mateo on the night of January 27, related that he fired several shots at Timothy before the latter drew his own pistol.

The tragedy was a sequel to the sensational divorce action which Mrs. Moore charged her husband with adultery and he in a cross complaint, this case, which brought in the name of Rear Admiral Thomas S. Phelps, availed nothing to either complainant.

On the stand yesterday Timothy repeated his first account of the shooting. Lillian Moore, the little daughter of Mrs. Moore, and a Mrs. Read Cooper, a music hall singer and a former sweetheart of the chauffeur, also testified. Mrs. Cooper's testimony was not admitted, however, the judge holding that she was too intimate with Timothy and Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Moore, again the most alert listener in the court to the day's proceedings, did not wait for the return of the jury's verdict. When the jury retired she went out with her daughter, Lillian Moore. It was expected until the last minute that she would go on the stand.

"I was disappointed that they did not call me," said the widow of the murdered man as she left court. "I wanted to testify. I wanted an opportunity to deny that I was in the automobile with Timothy when he stopped in front of the house. Probably the prosecution was afraid that my testimony would help to free Timothy."

Lillian Moore was one of the last witnesses called. She had sat all day through the trial by her mother's side, and to keep her thoughts from the story of strife and murder had playfully sketched witness and jurors on a small pad she had in her muff.

The testimony of the pretty, white-faced child was given with coolness and confidence, but when asked whether she believed the man she took the stand. Mrs. Moore batted her hand, and the girl with long chestnut hair loosened down her back and slender figure wrapped in a white cloak was sworn under oath to tell the truth. On the stand the daughter and mother exchanged an affectionate smile, the only one which crossed the face of Mrs. Moore in the day.

Lillian told under the gentle leading of Attorney Louis Ward of the prosecution her story of the shooting which caused the death of her stepfather. She watched it from an open window on the second story.

SPRECKELS' FORM NEW CORPORATION

Gas, Electricity and Steam to Be Sold by San Fran-CISCO Concern.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Recent persistent rumors that Rudolph and Claus A. Spreckels would invade the steam heat, electric light, power and gas fields of this city and Central California were borne out yesterday when the Spreckels brothers filed articles of incorporation for the Universal Electric and Gas Company. The Universal is a $5,000,000 company, the capital stock being fully paid up, according to the articles. There are 50,000 shares of stock, having a value of $100 each. The two brothers own all the stock save three or four shares. They are two of the five directors. The other three are F. E. Spreckels of San Mateo, Frank Harald of Burlingame, and J. H. Sanderford of this city.

The life of the new company is to be fifty years. The corporation articles set forth that the company is to generate steam, electric light and power and gas to use in San Francisco and other parts of California.

C. A. and Rudolph Spreckels already operate in this city the Municipal Electric Light and Power Company. Presumably this concern will be used later on as an adjunct to the new corporation.

BULLHEAD RANCH SOLD TO WEALTHY STOCKMEN

RENO, Feb. 28.—There has been consummated the largest real estate deal involving Humboldt county property since the sale of the famous Hardin ranch in Quinn river valley, a year ago. It involves the historic property known as the Bullhead ranch, in the valley of the Little Humboldt river, 55 miles north of Winnemucca. The purchasers are G. D. and B. C. Biles, millionaire California and Nevada stockmen. The sale was made by the Jordan Valley Livestock Company, the principal stockholders of which are heirs of the Sisson and Crocker estates. William Sisson and his brother, Joe Sisson of San Francisco, are two heirs. The price is reported to be $200,000 cash. The Bullhead ranch is one of the largest in the state, including 36,000 acres, producing 3000 tons of hay annually. The land for years has been stocked with sheep.

MIDNIGHT RECEPTION
HELD ON LUSITANIA

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The sailing of the Lusitania at 1 o'clock this morning on the first trip of her new schedule, was preceded by a brilliant reception that lasted several hours and was in full progress as the great boat swung into the Hudson and started for the open sea. For an hour or more automobiles and carriages brought travelers in evening dress from the theaters and other social festivities. A midnight reception aboard steamer was a novelty.

The new sailing schedule brings London and Paris, for all practical purposes of the transatlantic traveler, eight hours nearer New York.

The Mauritania and Campania will also sail at 7 o'clock in the morning instead of 8 o'clock on their regular sailing days.

$3,000,000 DEFENSE MEASURE PASSED

Fortification Bill Is Disposed of and Agricultural Appropriation Taken Up.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Rapid progress with appropriation bills was made in the House yesterday. The fortifications bill, carrying an appropriation of more than $3,000,000, was passed, without material amendment.

The agricultural appropriation bill, which carried $16,336,976, was then taken up and the House heard the major part of the debate on its adjournment. Despite the agricultural bill was met by an attack on the Remsen resolution by Representative Moss, chairman of the special committee which investigated the Wiley-McCabe controversy, and a speech by Senator Smith of Minnesota, who recommended the dissolution of the board and the creation of a new one by Congress.

If there is to be a board to review pure food directions, Moss argued, Congress and the President should authorize its creation.

Before appropriate legislation was considered, Representative Wilson of Pennsylvania made an ineffectual effort to get consideration of a bill to provide an investigation of strike conditions at Lawrence, Massachusetts.

Representative Gillett of Massachusetts introduced unanimous consent, assuring the Massachusetts bill would be tabled, the strike, and the Wilson resolution was over.

Chairman Pujo of the banking and currency committee announced that the bill would be in full swing within a few days. No attorney to represent the committee has been selected. Representative Henry wrote Pujo suggesting the name of Samuel Gompers as the man best qualified for the job.

Secretary Mayer appeared before the naval affairs committee in executive session and urged the construction of a government owned railroad to reach the government-owned fishery Alaska.

Representative Miller of Minnesota introduced a bill appropriating $100,000 for the construction of a Chippewa hospital in the state of Minnesota.

Representative Gillett of Texas demanded a resolution instructing the state department to press the claims of Americans against the Mexican government for losses sustained during border fights in the Mexican revolution of 1911.

CHARGES PLOT TO KOREAN STUDENTS

The Japanese Foreign Office Explains Arrests at Church Mission.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Japanese foreign office in a cable message sent to the consul general for publication explains in considerable detail the recent troubles in Korea which led to the arrest of teachers and students in the Presbyterian mission school there. The statement says in part:

"In June of last year, the Japanese authorities in Korea discovered a conspiracy already begun three years before by a group of persons, including some teachers and students of the Sin Syong Academy in North P'yong-An-Do, and other Christians. The conspirators planned the assassination of the Japanese resident general, the governor general, leading Korean statesmen, and others, with the purpose of ultimate restoration of the old Korean regime.

"Up to the present, more than a hundred suspected conspirators have been arrested. The fact of the conspiracy has been admitted. The leaders were teachers and students of the Sin Syong Academy and a majority of those involved in the case confessed to being believers in Christianity.

"Their arrest, however, had nothing to do either with the church or their faith. In spite of this plain fact, some of the missionaries affected by this affair are reported to have been disseminating various hypotheses calculated to protect their own interests."

SLAYER OF TWO GETS MINIMUM SENTENCE

TACOMA, Feb. 28.—Willie Brown, who confessed to having killed his wife and Jack Wilson while on their way from the car to their home, and who entered a plea of murder in the second degree before Judge Chapman, was brought into court for sentence yesterday.

Judge Chapman remarked that, while there appeared to be very aggravating circumstances, they could not justify a man in taking human life; but he would impose the minimum sentence, which is from ten to fifteen years in the state penitentiary.

Immediately after returning to his cell, Brown was visited by H. H. Pickett, former State senator and manager of the Kaviness Lumber Company, in whose employ Brown was engaged. Pickett said that he would take the matter up with Governor Hatfield and endeavor to have Brown pardoned or paroled.

Brown was paroled on Friday.

TROUSERETTES WORN BY MISS SEARS STARTLES SAN MATEO

Boston Heiress and Friend Ride
Bicycles Into Town in Man's Garb.

BURLINGAME, Feb. 28.—After passing one of her customary strenuous days yesterday, Miss Eleonora Sears, who can generally be depended upon to do the unexpected, provided a sartorial surprise for the sedate townfolk of San Mateo by appearing with Mrs. Oscar Cooper, each astride a bicycle.

Miss Sears and Mrs. Cooper were dressed to match in top boots, checkered trouserettes, small straw riding hats and gray coats. After making a number of purchases they rode back to the home of the Francis' Carols, where Miss Sears is a guest.

Yesterday morning found Miss Sears up at 6 o'clock walking from the Carolin home to the Burlingame station and back again a good four miles. Later in the day she appeared cantering over the Burlingame roads on a spirited horse that was flecked with foam and snorting cones of steam.

The bicycling trip to San Mateo with Mrs. Cooper completed the out-of-door program of the Boston heiress.

Spanked Baby

STOCKTON, Feb. 28.—That the attempt of J. L. Carmickle of this county to spank his 2-year-old baby was the sole cause of his going to the divorce court was the assertion made by the woman in court. The divorce was contested by the husband and interesting disclosures were made on both sides. During the latter part of the proceedings the fight centered "almost entirely" in the custody of the child.

Mrs. Carmickle testified that she married the defendant in July, 1908, when she was but 15 years of age, and that they lived peacefully together. With the advent of the baby trouble began. She declared that Carmickle had frequently attempted to whip the child without provocation and she interfered with the result, that a quarrel invariably ensued.

SPOKANE, Feb. 28.—Mrs. May Arkwright, local suffrage leader, has announced herself a candidate for delegate to the national democratic convention and has started her campaign.

She noticed the raw pine partitions, which workmen had just finished installing. Immediately she went out, bought some paint, hired a man to put it on and then gave $50 to the general campaign fund.

It is the general opinion at the headquarters that she can not be beaten for delegate.

Mrs. Hirst will leave Thursday for Troy to place the project before the council of 350 state club presidents, who meet on Monday.

Helpful Recipes

By Lillian Russell

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

HAVE received hundreds of requests the last couple of days for beauty aids for the hands and face. The following recipes are most excellent: A treatment for large pores: Witch hazel, four ounces; distilled water, six ounces; pulverized alum, one-quarter ounce. Mix a solution and pat gently on the skin with absorbent cotton and let it dry slowly on the skin. Chapped hands: When skin is cracked and painful take menthol, twenty-five grains; salol, thirty grains; oil benne, two drachms; lanoline, one ounce. Mix. Wash hands with warm water and castile soap and be sure the skin is free from soap. Mop the skin thoroughly until dry. Then apply a little of the ointment. Use twice daily.

For acne: Take beta napthol, one-half drachm; precipitated sulphur, one-half ounce; green soap, one-quarter ounce; vaseline, one ounce. Mix. Wash face with hot water. Dry thoroughly. Rub a little of the ointment gently into the skin for fifteen or twenty minutes. Remove same with clean gauze and dust with boric talcum.

For pimples: Take washed sulphur, one-quarter ounce; precipitated carbonate lime, one-quarter ounce; powdered borax, one-half ounce; tincture benzoin, one-quarter ounce; glycerin, one and one-half ounces; spirits of lavender, one-quarter ounce; rosewater enough to make a pint. Wash face with warm water. Dry thoroughly, then apply lotion, pat on skin with a small piece of gauze and let dry on. Always shake bottle well before using.

Elder flower skin food: Almond oil, six ounces; white wax, ten drachms; spermaceti, ten drachms; lanoline, two ounces; oil of lemon, two drachms; elder flower water, two ounces; witch hazel, two ounces; tiny pinch powdered borax.

Greasless cream: (1) Gum tragacanth powdered, three drachms; (2) cologne spirits, five drachms; (3) glycerin, fifty drachms; (4) stronger rosewater, thirty drachms; (5) stronger orange flower water, twelve drachms. Rub (1) and (2) to a smooth paste, then add (3) and when thoroughly mixed beat in (4) and (5) to a smooth cream. A little of the greasless cream is required for the skin, as it is easily absorbed and non-irritating.

For eyebrows: Take the eyebrows into a perfect arch. Let the gum stay over night and wash off in the morning with warm water, brushing them always upward with a clean brush. Plain yellow vaseline is excellent for increasing the growth of the eye lashes. Melt a small amount of vaseline and apply to the lashes with a fine brush. Be careful not to get any of the vaseline into the eye, as oil of any kind irritates it. Send me a self-addressed stamped envelope and I shall be glad to send you the formula for a French tonic for eyebrows and lashes.

B. A. C.—When your hands are not to wash them in water, but cleanse them with olive oil or cold cream. The water makes them dry. Before retiring, cover the hands with sweet almond oil, and then put on a pair of old loose fitting kid gloves. In the morning your hands will be smooth and soft. I shall be glad to send you the formula for an excellent glove paste if you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

L. J.—If the eyebrows are stubborn and stand up they may be trained with gum tragacanth or quince seeds, if you can get them. Dissolve the gum or the seeds in enough rosewater to make it as thick as mucilage, then strain it through a piece of cheese cloth into a small jar. Dip the eyebrows brush in the mixture and bring the eyebrows into a perfect arch. Let the gum stay over night and wash off in the morning with warm water, brushing them always upward with a clean brush. Plain yellow vaseline is excellent for increasing the growth of the eye lashes. Melt a small amount of vaseline and apply to the lashes with a fine brush. Be careful not to

CHILDREN TO CANAL TOLLS APPEAR IN CONGRESS

EQUAL, IS DICTUM

Department of Justice Agent Takes Up Inquiry at Lawrence.

Bureau of Labor to Look Into Situation at Mills in Massachusetts.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 28.—The first of at least two investigations by federal officials into certain phases of the situation surrounding the long-standing strike of mill workers here was begun today.

Special Agent Danneberg of the Department of Justice, acting under United States District Attorney French, presided over an inquiry into the exportation of children. He came here to ascertain particularly whether the police officials, in preventing the departure of 100 children for Philadelphia last Saturday, acted in violation of the interstate commerce law. Alleged ill-treatment of children and women by the police did not enter into this inquiry.

The wages and working conditions in the mills are to be the subject of another investigation and an official from Washington will arrive tomorrow to pursue the inquiry.

UP TO CONGRESS.

The situation will be brought before Congress Saturday when a strike committee, accompanied by 26 children, will appear before the House to submit to questions. They may not leave Lawrence before Friday.

Congressman Butler Ames, in whose district Lawrence is situated, concluded a two days' personal investigation of the strike this afternoon and will depart for Washington tonight. After attending a lively session of the strike committee Ames said he believed himself well acquainted with all sides in the controversy and expressed the opinion that the strikers are deserving of much sympathy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The federal bureau of labor will make an immediate investigation of the wage and working conditions at the textile mills at Lawrence, Mass. A representative of the bureau will leave Washington today for the strikebroken city.

A decision to investigate the strike was reached at a conference today between Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel and Dr. Charles B. Neil, United States Commissioner of Labor. The bureau of labor has considerable data about conditions at Lawrence as a result of recent inquiries.

The continuance of the strike and the turbulent situation resulting, however, made it desirable in the judgment of the federal authorities, to ascertain the exact conditions today and all the causes of the labor troubles. There has been agitation in Congress during the last few days to have the bureau of labor investigate.

Representative Wilson, chairman of the committee on labor, received scores of letters and telegrams relating to the proposed congressional investigation of the strike to be considered by the rules committee next Saturday. William H. Haywood, leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, sent a telegram attacking President Golden of the Textile Workers, charging that Golden aided the police and was an enemy of the strikers. In a letter Golden made counter-charges against Haywood, declaring that he and others made inflammatory speeches which precipitated riots.

CROWD DISPERSED.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 28.—A dense crowd of spectators in the mill district occupied the energies of the militia and police today. Most of these were women and in obliging them to move there was little violence exercised. Two women were arrested.

In the expectation that a party of children would be sent to Washington, a large crowd gathered at the railroad station, but as preparations had not been completed, the departure has been deferred. Representative Berger of Wisconsin telegraphed that only children who worked in the mills are wanted.

The incidents surrounding the prevention of deportation of a body of children for Philadelphia and their detention in the police last Saturday, occupied with other phases of the strike, the attention today of Butler Ames, member of Congress for this district. Mr. Ames attended a meeting of the strikers' committee, acquainting himself with the operators' side of the struggle. He expects to return to Washington tomorrow.

ASKS PROTECTION.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—John M. Work, secretary, sent a telegram from the national headquarters of the Socialist party to President Taft today, saying:

"The Socialist party of America, as the political expression of the working class, by action of its national executive committee demands that you use the power vested in you as the chief executive of the United States to protect the workingmen, women and children of Lawrence, Mass., from the violence of lawless officials. It is monstrous to wreak vengeance upon helpless children. We protest against it."

Similar messages went to Governor Frost and Mayor Scanlon of Lawrence.

TIME TABLE BOOKLET

At the time, the new booklet contains color plates, showing the different disks by which the cars are distinguished at the mole.

The booklet also contains a map showing the lines of the various different stations. The rail service now in operation on the company's lines is $26 trains daily.

BRENNAN TO AID FIGHT ON 'TRUST'

Assistant District Attorney to Talk of Fight on Alleged Fish Combine.

The campaign of the Merchants' Exchange against the alleged fish combine in this city and on the coast will be aided by Assistant District Attorney J. W. Brennan of San Francisco who conducted the recent prosecutions in that city.

Brennan will speak before the local body on Tuesday evening, March 19, giving details and suggestions on the proper way to fight the alleged combine.

The meeting will be attended on special invitation by local dealers in fish who are not held guilty of the existing high prices charged for the commodity.

According to Brennan, no complaints have been lodged with him in San Francisco since the recent successful prosecutions and impositions of fines in that city, and he believes the prosecution can have equally successful results here.

The Exchange hopes to make the matter an interstate affair in order to bring it into the United States courts.

AUTO WRECKED BY ELECTRIC TRAIN

George E. Tuman Narrowly
Escapes Death in Alameda Crash.

Machine Ground to Pieces; the Engine Explodes; Track
Torn Up.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 28.—An automobile, belonging to G. E. Tuman, 141 Webster avenue, was ground to pieces this morning when the auto was struck by a westbound electric train on the Alameda loop at Webster street and Central avenue. The auto was bound south on Webster street and started to cross the track to turn east on Central avenue directly in front of Webster street station.

The driver saw the electric train approaching, but thought he had time to clear the track. The train struck the auto on the right side and dragged the car about 50 feet, turning it over. The driver, who was alone in the car, jumped as the auto was being dragged along the track and escaped injury.

The auto's engine exploded as the car turned over, blowing out the cylinder heads and doing additional damage. All but the rear of the car was a splintered mass of wreckage. The collision tore off the tender of the electric train and tore up the track for several feet. The train traps were also damaged.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL
HAPPENINGS OF DAY
IN THE ISLAND CITYTWO THOUSAND TO DIG CAMPUS ROADUniversity Students Eager for Fourth Labor Day; Surveying Complete.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 28.—It is expected that between 1500 and 2000 men students of the university will seize their tools and start digging the first root roadway from Hearst avenue to California Hall, which is the whistle of Labor Day, blow at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. This will be the fourth day of its kind held at California, the last day of February having come to be the traditional date for labor day.

Each of the colleges has been assigned a particular portion of the roadway on which to work, and each college is a subdivision into gangs under straw bosses. Students in agriculture will work nearest the main entrance, while others will be clearing next, then mechanical engineering, commerce, social science and letters in that order.

Students in natural sciences and chemistry will work at the North Hall end.

The road to be dug is a permanent road conforming with the plans for the greater university 40 feet wide. It will enter the campus at Hearst avenue and Arch street, circle in front of the new agricultural building, join the main axis and end at North Hall. In addition there will be the construction of a path from Oxford street up through the vegetable gardens and also much needed work on the cinder path.

All surveying and laying out of the road was completed today by the university engineers, and by tonight everything will be in actual readiness for the work. This preparation is in charge of a committee composed of L. S. Ready, O. E. Chapman, H. B. Hammill and S. E. Carpenter.

The students of the several colleges are to work from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., the man in charge of each college being as follows:

Agriculture, S. G. Wilder; agriculture, A. W. Elliott; civil engineering, W. H. Smyth; natural science, H. S. Chase; letters, C. S. Wheeler; commerce, W. H. Conlin; mining, L. G. Krigbaum; mechanical, H. E. Sanderson; chemistry, W. M. Davis; graduate, J. U. Calkins.

H. H. Phleger has been in general pointed water carrier for the day.

RESIDENT TO BE ABSENT.

President Wheeler today sent a special dispatch to the committee in charge from New York, where he has been for several days. The dispatch reads:

"Tell the students I bitterly regret not being with you all to-day. Every versity. Root and dig and pray."

BENJAMIN IDE WHEELER.

While the men students are working on the road, the women will be busy engaged at California Field preparing a luncheon to be served them at noon. Ten long tables will be arranged across the field, with a captain and 10 women in charge of each. The table captains and execs are as follows:

Miss Lucy Gay is in charge of the women's activities assisted by Miss Anna Kidder, in charge of refreshments. They have arranged for the men to march in gangs, up to the tables, procure their plates and luncheon and pass on to their seats in the stands.

Athletic contests of picnic variety will be held on California Field after the tables are cleared away. Cracker eating contests, obstacle races, pillow fights and like amusements will fill the afternoon. In the evening the laborers will gather at Harmon gymnasium for a smoker.

ATHEARN FIRES BROADSIDE
IN REPLY TO WILSON
"I Am Still Groping in Smoke of Invective and Epithet," He Says

BERKELEY, Feb. 28.—Fred G. Athearn, one of the leaders in the campaign to recall Councilman John A. Wilson and Directors Stern and Mrs. Carlisle, a proposed meeting this week has been postponed. It is not believed the local petitions will be presented by that time, but announcement is expected by Friday of at least one meeting to be held next week, probably at Kellogg hall.

The line of defense to be undertaken by the majority members will include not only an attack on School Superintendent F. F. Barker, whose proposed removal started the whole difficulty, but also an effort to show that their proposed recall is part of an effort to end Socialist control of local affairs. The latter phase of the campaign will be the keynote of most of Mayor J. Stitt Wilson's speech.

The mayor has already intimated in the two public statements he has made that he considers the political phase of the situation its most important one. In the school board, he said, "John Wilson, the commissioner of finance, the mayor sees an effort to break the Socialist majorities in both the council and the school board at one blow. Against this in particular he will make his fight.

The mayor's interference in the imbroglio has been the only disappointment so far of the recall forces, who have found plenty of supporters throughout the city of their campaign. In the campaign of a year ago Stitt Wilson proved the strongest factor, so far as concerned vote-getting, in the Socialist ranks. In fact, to his personal ability as an orator was largely accredited by all parties his success at the polls. It was generally believed in the present instance by the recall proponents that their task would be materially lightened if he could be kept out of the fight.

HE DOESN'T KNOW.

"The mayor asks the question, 'Did Mr. Athearn really think that he would deserve to such trickery to carry a point, to such treachery to friends, associates and voters, such an attempt to play the petty dictator, and by the turn of the hand defeat common decency?' I don't know what the mayor would descend. I do know that I asked him to ascend and play the man, to keep Socialist out of this school fight. This is the mayor refused to do and admits as much in his published answer to me.

"The mayor says that he was 'shocked and insulted' at my proposal that he use his earnest endeavors to end this strife. Mayor Wilson, that must have been 'shock and insult' number one because I was the third man to sign ten days to make the same proposal to you."

"Mr. Wilson states that I gave him to understand that I represented the Good Government committee. I know of no such committee. The only committee that was in existence in connection with the school affair at that time was the Citizens' school committee. This committee was appointed at the request of citizens of Berkeley in mass meeting assembled. Stick to the truth, mayor. You know that you used the term, Good Government Committee, for the sake of cheap political effect.

"You express surprise, Mr. Wilson, that I should reveal the 'nasty secret' of my conference with you. I told you that very beginning of our conversation that you were at perfect liberty to use anything you wanted in the campaign and warned you that I would use anything you said. Now, the 'nasty secret' is out.

"Spurious phrases, scrambled ideas, and leather lungs will not win this fight, mayor Wilson, and you know it."

OUTLINES EVILS OF GOVERNMENT

State Senator J. W. Stetson Lectures Before League of Republic.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 28.—State Senator John W. Stetson addressed the League of the Republic and classes in political science yesterday afternoon at California Hall, his subject being "County Government Reorganization." In part he said:

"The things that seem to need correction in county government have been extravagance, inefficiency in the administration of justice, the various courts, ridiculous political activity on the part of county officers and the constitutional provisions prohibiting special legislation to meet the needs of particular counties.

"Present attempts to remedy these evils have resulted in constitutional amendments permitting the reconstitution of justices' courts and for the appointment or election of justices, either by township, districts or by larger units, either for the adoption of county freeholders' charters which take from the legislature the right to fix salaries, provide assistants in county offices, and by other means indirectly increasing the expense of local government. This is to be done as in cities, by the inhabitants themselves acting through freeholders.

The initiative, referendum and recall give the people opportunities for the correction of many evils which, it is understood, might tend to the reversal of the township system of government, which is to be done as in cities, by the inhabitants themselves acting through freeholders.

NEW PLAN SHOULD GIVE TRUE LINE
ON AVERAGESOfficial Dopester of American League Has Scheme to Show Players' Worth.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—That the present method of compiling fielding averages often fails completely to reveal a player's true ability is the contention of Irvin M. Howe, recently appointed official statistician of the American League, who will include an innovation in ranking players in his baseball record book of 1912. Giving players ranking in the hall of fame under the old method has proved to be but an a momentary joke, according to this authority, who has compiled records for the national pastime for several seasons.

Under the old method players were given ranking by reckoning their averages on the basis of accepted chances and the total number of chances. To determine the ranking of the one who is credited with the accepted chances by the total chances, Howe will grade the players according to the number of accepted chances per game, and by comparison rate them more nearly according to their actual ability, he asserts.

Here is the ranking of six short fielders in the major leagues last season, rated under the present method:

Chas. Pet.	Tannehill	McBride	Tinker	Doolan	Hausner
102 642 .951	154 899 .941	143 819 .937	145 769 .936	145 769 .936	134 723 .918

BUSH'S CASE ILLUSTRATES POINT.

It will be seen from this table that Lee Tannehill of the Chicago White Sox leads the shortstop under the present method of reckoning fielding averages. Tannehill also leads when computing the standing of the players by the number of accepted chances per game. It will sometimes happen that the player rated under the present method is also the actual leader in ground covering, but there are glaring exceptions.

The record of Owen Bush of the Detroit Tigers, for 1911, illustrates the failure of the old method to rate him correctly in his true ability. It will be seen that Bush is rated fifth under the present rules for computing fielding averages.

If one rates these same players on the basis of accepted chances per game, Bush will be second, close on the heels of Tannehill. A very small fraction would separate the pair.

Critics who have watched Bush know his wonderful ability in ground covering. His record, however, in fielding averages would mislead by a foot or more. Bush's great resourcefulness in ground covering is shown by the number of accepted chances to his credit.

RANKING UNDER NEW SYSTEM.

According to the new method of rating players on the basis of average number of chances per game, the six players would be ranked as follows:

Chas. Pet.	Tannehill	Bush	McBride	Tinker	Doolan	Hausner
102 642 .951	154 899 .941	143 819 .937	145 769 .936	145 769 .936	134 723 .918

It is possible under the present method of ranking to have a player "play to play" by handling hard chances in such a way as to escape the charge of an error in the box score. Players have been accused of seeking good averages instead of the good of the club.

On who plays difficult ground balls safe when he might have gone after them and registered an assist certainly is subordinating the good of the club to his own personal glory.

PUTS MAXIMUM ON LOAFING.

None of the six players mentioned has been accused of this yet under the old method of computing fielding averages. A premium is put on this very thing. If a player loafed on a hard chance he gets credit for it by being exempted from it.

If a player shows wonderful prowess in going after difficult chances, as in the case of Bush, in 1911, the fielding averages fail to show such prowess.

Shifting the responsibility of number of chances accepted per game in the records would act as a stimulus to players to exert themselves in handling difficult chances. If fielding averages were based on the good of the club, instead of all the outfields, would be ranked more according to their real abilities and their value to their respective clubs.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Frank Junes, amateur pedestrian of Halifax, N. S., is in New York today on his way back to Nain, Labrador, where he started Feb. 2, 1910, on a 15,000-mile walk for a $3000 prize.

The terms of his contract provide that he must cover the distance in 500 days. He is now eleven days ahead of his schedule, having covered 13,000 miles thus far.

VARSITY NINE WINS FROM CLIFF IRELAND'S BIG BOYS

California's varsity baseball nine maintained its winning streak yesterday, defeating Ireland's Independents by a score of 3 to 2. The varsity nine showed championship form both in the field and at bat. The collegians had their bunting trimmed, securing eight hits off Driskill. Not an error was made by the fielders. The varsity won the contest in the eighth inning, pounding out three runs. Bill Forker pitched sterling ball, fanning eight of the visitors, and keeping the hits well scattered. A feature of the game was a one-handed catch by Captain Allen of a high ball back of third base.

JEFFRIES DENIES HE SENT TELEGRAM TO
JIM COFFROTHSays He Did Not Give Out the Statement That Abe Attell
Had Been Robbed.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 28.—James J. Jeffries last night issued a signed statement denying the report that he had telegraphed James Coffroth in San Francisco that Abe Attell should have had a draw in his recent fight with Johnny Kilbane, and that he would still be recognized as the featherweight champion.

Jeffries in his statement said, "I told everyone's decision, not the only one possible. Kilbane definitely defeated Attell and earned the championship. Immediately after the fight I advised Attell to keep still, that he had been beaten by a better boy, and that knocking would do him no good. I sent no message to Coffroth, or any one else."

WORLD-BEATING TEAM OF

Since the recent controversy over the relative value of the sand lot player versus the one who is brought up through a universal training, an industrious Eastern statistician has delved into the dope book to secure figures which will throw some light on the subject, and has found that a team of college stars could be stacked up.

CIVIC DUTY URGED ON CLUB WOMEN

Three Organizations Meet in Upper Fruitvale for Lively Session.

FRUITVALE. Feb. 28.—One of the biggest meetings ever held in Upper Fruitvale took place yesterday afternoon in Upper Fruitvale hall, where three women's clubs of the district met as a union meeting to hear speakers on topics and the duties of women under the suffrage amendment. The three clubs represented were the Laurel club, of which Dr. Minerva Kibbe is president; the Upper Fruitvale Women's club, the chairwoman of which Mrs. C. H. Hodge is the presiding officer, and the Fruitvale Civic club led by Mrs. Isabel Johnson. Several hundred women attended.

Dr. Hodge presided at the meeting and the speakers were: Miss Annie Little Barry, Alameda district president of the Federation of Women's clubs; Miss Anita Whitney, president of the Oakland Civic Center; Dr. Minerva Kibbe, Miss Inez Johnson, and Mrs. Hodge.

Miss E. H. Blume, who was scheduled to speak, was unable to be present. Chief Deputy County Clerk Andrew Johnstone, with a corps of assistants, registered the voters, men and women, after the meeting, and during the time were served.

MUST EDUCATE WOMEN.

Miss Anita Whitney, one of the principal speakers, told of the aims and plans of the Civic League of California, and its branches, the civic centers of the different towns.

"We must educate ourselves," said the speaker, "in order to properly fulfill the duty that is imposed on us by the ballot. We must study, for study and service must be combined before the women can fulfill their mission in politics. There are many good ideals that we can remedy if we act as a whole."

"Our power to do this will be assured, for there are more women than men in the State. We must strike a blow at the white slave system, the tendency to taxation by foreign public officials to enforce laws already enacted, and at the present time literature dealing with this subject is being prepared by the league. Inspection of milk and foods is another thing that we must take up. A mother that will appear to every mother. We must protect our girls and boys from many evils, and with the help of many good ideals that we can remedy if we act as a whole."

Mrs. Annie Little Barry spoke on the work of the Fruitvale Masonic club. She told of the coming convention of the National Federation in San Francisco next year, and of the plan to make the state a great exhibition of fruits and flowers during the visit of the eastern leaders to the coast.

TELLS OF FEDERATION.

"The Federation," said she, "is the oldest organization of its kind, and has done much good throughout the country. It will prove a prominent factor in making a public opinion in the future, and as a member of it, I hope the women will be encouraged to take up the task of learning citizenship. Learn to vote intelligently. The men have always had to consider things from a broader standpoint than we, and are, therefore, better fitted to speak. We must learn to be fully as broad. The civic center, the club, and the Federation are the factors that will help us in the matter."

The woman in Upper Fruitvale will probably, according to the statement of several members affiliated with the Civic League, either as a branch of the Oakland center or as another center.

Dr. Kibbe spoke at some length on the work of the three local units in the matter of planning for the improvement of the town. She said that the women's club is bringing about better cooperation and singleness of purpose between pastors, Sunday school superintendents and teachers of this township. The meeting was adjourned, and a hearty round of applause was delivered besides that by Miss Shinn.

Among those taking an active part in the work are Miss G. Crocker, president of the Washington Township Sunday School association; Dr. Jones of Niles; Dr. J. Curry of Newark; Dr. H. N. Bevier of Centerville and Rev. J. Durham of Irvington. Rev. H. N. Winsor of the Fifth Avenue Methodist church, Oakland, is also interested in the movement.

ALMOST LOST HIS LIFE.

A friend of Marion Michell will never forget the terrible experience he had. "It gave me a dreadful shock," he writes. "That caused severe pain in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New York heart medicine, which helped." The doctor said he was on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and was completely cured.

The Solano Aquatic club, through official channels has forwarded to the secretary of the navy a request that he furnish with a copy of the correspondence between the company and the department in New York. The request is based on the fact that the answer of the ferry company to the quo warrantem proceedings commenced in the court of admiralty did not secure a copy of the Solano club's correspondence with the department at that time.

The torpedo-boat destroyers Fox and Davis were ordered yesterday to be put in dry dock for repairs to the St. Louis. This order, the first of its kind, is taken to mean that the Bremerton yards is in future to be the station where short-time men will be sent for repairs.

B. AND S. BLAMED FOR ANDY'S PEACE

Koeble Objects to Financing Celebration Broached by Carnegie.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 28.—"Just because Andrew Carnegie, after the exhilarating effects of a brandy and soda, feels so good that he desires all the world to be at peace, is no reason why the United States, in general or New York in particular should help finance that idea."

Thus declared Alfonso G. Koeble, president of the German-American Citizens' League of this State, at a legislative hearing yesterday on a bill appropriating $500,000 toward the celebration in 1914 of the one hundredth anniversary of peace between England and the United States.

Koeble declared that the proposed celebration was largely for Carnegie's personal aggrandizement, and that it would tend to the forming of an Anglo-American alliance, thus discriminating against other countries.

STRONG PICTURE PLAY AT OAKLAND

LETTER REVEALS TRUST'S METHODS

"Matter of Business" Features Johnson; Lyric Has a Good Bill.

"Matter of Business" is the title of a play, featuring Arthur V. Johnson, the hero in many intense and complicated love stories, who is appearing at the Oakland Photo Theater this week. The new company, Cines, presents "Happy in Spite of Herself" and "Jenkins, a Perfect Steward." This is the celebrated European company that produced "Julius Caesar" and "Joseph in Egypt." These were marvels of settings and photography. One can always expect great results from their productions.

The Vitagraph company offer a great western pic, entitled, "The Justice of the Desert." This photo play is beyond all comparison in western truthfulness, strength and constantly increasing dramatic situations. It gives a wonderful portrait of fate's mysterious workings and rections with a villain. A fine comedy, "Edison, 'My Doubts and How He Undid me,'" is part of an exclusive program. Attention is called to the popularity of the reserved section for ladies and escorts.

Commencing Saturday, March 16, between 10 and 12 a. m. will be inaugurated school children's matinees under the auspices of Mrs. Radcliffe and the members of the several women clubs. These matinees will consist of educational pictures properly illustrated by lectures and will continue every Saturday until further notice.

AT THE LYRIC.

"La Favorita" is an opera, at the Lyric Theater, now and tomorrow. Special music has been prepared for this opera. This photo play is the production of a French company, the Campanie Generale Phonographic Cinematographic, noted for beautiful scenic effects. All the scenes and acting are taken from the famous opera. A great comedy entitled "The Chocolate Revolver" by the Vitagraph company, given in addition to many others.

The Lyric announces for March 6-7 that great Edison creation, "Children who Labor." Special efforts have been made to create an educational and heart-gripping story. This play was produced in co-operation with the National Child Labor Committee. The well-known and popular actresses, Miss Mary Fuller and Miss Miriam Nesbit sustained the leading characters.

During a previous trip in the company, Misses Sloss and Miss Minnie Price in 1908 Mrs. Kohl's only daughter, Mary, wife of Evans Pillsbury, died, and June of last year while Mrs. Kohl was in the east, C. Frederick Kohl was sent by express to San Francisco. San Diego while coming out of the court room after a lawsuit in which the woman was opposed him.

STAYS WITH CHILDREN.

These misfortunes had determined Mrs. Kohl not to leave her children again, and she had been looking forward with particular pleasure to the European tour.

Mrs. Kohl was a native of Philadelphia. She was Miss Sarah Hunter before her marriage to Captain William Kohl, who died in 1886. Captain Kohl had a life and business interest in the employ of the Alaska Commercial company and engaged in the salmon packing business.

In time he rose to a directorship in the company, along with the late Major Sloss, Sir James and Captain Gustave Neubauer, amassing a great fortune on the same foundations as these large San Francisco estates. The bulk of this property went to the widow upon Captain Kohl's death, and his son, C. Frederick Kohl, recently presented to his son and his wife.

Her only other surviving relative is a brother, William Hunter, who resides in the east. She was married to him in 1908. She was one of the founders of the San Francisco Women's exchange.

The funeral will be held Friday morning from the family residence, 2876 Pacific avenue, San Francisco.

WOMEN ARE TO SEEK HARMONY

Wives of Prominent Democratic Leaders to Give Breakfast.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Democratic ladies propose to take a hand in the national political situation this year.

To celebrate and strengthen harmony in the reunited democracy, wives of Democratic leaders at the capital are planning a "harmony breakfast," to be given at one of the hotels here on Dolly Madison's Birthday, May 20, with Mrs. Champ Clark seated between Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. William Underwood.

Plans for this event were launched at a dinner given by Mrs. Robert W. Wadsworth, wife of Representative Wadsworth, in honor of Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Oscar W. Underwood, wife of the Democratic house leader.

They were named to constitute an advisory committee. Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of Democratic leaders will be invited to come together. In the honor will be the wives of men who have been mentioned as presidential possibilities, including Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Judson Harmon, Mrs. John W. Kern, Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, Mrs. Eugene N. Foss, Mrs. John A. Dix, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Mrs. Champ Clark and Mrs. Oscar W. Underwood.

Said to Have Two Wives; Hasn't Any

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 28.—Although he is said to have two wives as a matter of law, Dr. J. H. Powers, a prominent citizen of Ogden, is disconsolate because of a greater of fact he has not even one wife. Dr. Powers was married here yesterday to Miss Kathryn Wickline, a trained nurse, who attended him in a recent illness. The vows hardly had been spoken when the bride's parents appeared and denounced the ceremony as illegal. At the police station, whether the wedding party repented, Harnsby declared that Dr. Powers had an undivorceable wife living in Idaho.

Dr. Powers admitted that he had been married to Mabel Powers, a cousin. He said they separated three years ago and that Mrs. Powers had told mutual friends in Ogden that she had obtained a divorce. Miss Wickline, Dr. Powers, was permitted to go with her parents, and the bridegroom is alone at a hotel. His connubial status will be investigated by all concerned.

ERROR OF ONE CENT RECOVERS PROPERTY

Mrs. Rose Cordano of Berkeley, whose property had been sold by the state for $6 to C. P. Kelsey and J. D. DeCarli to satisfy delinquent taxes, recovered the property yesterday when her attorney discovered that County Tax Collector David L. Lohr charged the state 1 cent extra for the deal. Mrs. Cordano had allowed $5.89 to accumulate. The transfers were traced and the overcharge made the basis of a suit for annulment of the sale. The contentions were upheld by Superior Judge Wells and the sale invalidated.

BOOK ENCOURAGES EATING OF CHEESE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Another cook book, this one containing forty-five recipes in numerous ways, has been added to the list of those already published by the department of agriculture. Forty-one receipts for cheese dishes and cheese sauces are given. The bulletin also contains sample bills of fare in which cheese dishes are substituted for meat.

Cheese is not indigestible, the pamphlet declares, experiments by the department having shown that it is "as easy of digestion as a comparable amount of meat."

Cheese may be had for the asking.
